

On the Road

by STONE DESIGNS

The On the road bench has nothing added, nothing superfluous. It is just as it is: a natural and discreet bench, inspired by a long motorcycle journey on Route 66. Maybe that's why it begs to be put in any place you like and not to be installed as a static, fixed item. Monotony is not for this bench. The two elastic tapes stretch from the feet to hold the cushion down and give it personality, without giving up its simple character.

“The On the Road bench is inspired by a long motorcycle journey; that's why it looks good anywhere in the world.”
